

Climate Change in the Headlines: Why Cross-Checking Sources Matters

- A TV news report claims a recent climate protest turned violent.
- A newspaper article describes it as peaceful but urgent.
- Social media posts show both calm speeches and tense police encounters.

If you accept only one version, your view may be biased. But by comparing multiple sources — news, eyewitness accounts, and videos — you get a clearer, more accurate picture.

Cross-check to stay informed.

Learn how in our Digital Academy against Climate Change Disinformation course.

Visit <https://agoraclimatedisinfo.eu/>

